Mr. Larson:

In May 2024, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Cultural Resource Management (UWM-CRM) conducted an architecture/history review for the above-named project. The proposed project includes permitting from the US Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) for work along the Sugar River in the City and Town of Verona, Dane County, Wisconsin (see attached map). An Area of Potential Effect (APE) was established to coincide with the USACE permit area. Any resources within this APE that were at least 40 years old and possessed a degree of historic integrity were examined for potential historical significance.

UWM-CRM conducted a literature review that included searches of the Wisconsin Historic Preservation Database (WHPD) and the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) to identify historic resources within the project APE. No properties were identified in either database. A site visit of the permit area was conducted on May 31, 2024 in which UWM-CRM confirmed that no built resources are located within the project APE.

The result of this investigation is that there are no architecture/history resources within the project APE. No further architecture/history investigations are recommended. Please feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Gail Klein
